NEWS OF KANSAS.

Rudolph Hatfield Favors the Metropolitan Police System.

Suggests Means Whereby it Can be Made Effective.

OTHER STATE NEWS.

Winfield Baseball Players Presented With Gold Medals.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 11.—In a letter to the Gazette giving his views on the suggested abolition of the metropolitan police law, Rudolph Hatfield says:

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 7, 1894.

DEAR SIR: Complying with your request concerning the three inquiries you propounded as to the metropolitan police system:

First Question: "Are you in favor of retaining the metropolitan police law?"

Yes.

For the particular reason that it divorces the police from "ward politics." Notwithstanding the objection that it is undoubtedly undemocratic and not representative, I do not believe that of-best here is in any way objection to the domination of the lawless element in their tenure of office.

Second Question: "What amendments would you suggest, if any, to make the law more effective?" The chief and most useful, in my judgment, is one requiring the commission and the chief of police to make sworn report every quarter to the governor, naming and locating every disreputable house, gambling house, policy shop, joint and other place of unlawful resort in the city, if any, and the reasons why not abated, and making false statement therein in any material respect not only ground for immediate removal from office, but, also, grounds for prosecution for perjury.

Third Question: "What is the sentiment in your city regarding the retention or repeal of the law?" The sentiment here is divided as in all places, the opposition to the law may be divided into three classes here as probably in all the cities having the system in the state:

First.—The lawless element, because it does not give them the influence in the police of the city that the old system does.

Second.—Those who do not believe it a representative form of government.

Third.—Those who are disgusted with the corruption and "boodling," and open evasion of the law, by the connivance and fine-line system now practiced.

However, there is a large and respectable class of our citizens who believe the principle of the law all right, and with proper amendments the law can be much more successfully enforced under the metropolitan system than under the local system.

Respectfully,
RUDOLPH HATFIELD.

Wouldn't Stand Imposition.

STIRS UP TROUBLE.

Prosecution of Socialist Deputies in the Reichstag Requested.

BENTON, Dec. 11.—The fact that Prince Hohenzollern, the chancellor, communicated to Herr von Levetzow, president of the reichstag, a request from the public prosecutor that the reichstag sanction the criminal prosecution of the socialist deputies who remained seated on Thursday last, when Herr von Levetzow called for cheers for the emperor, has aroused a storm of discussion in the press.

The Boersen Courier remarks: "There is no doubt that the reichstag will emphatically recognize the request. If the government intends to dissolve parliament, let it be done before unpleasant debates arise."

The Vossische Zeitung thinks that "the harm that will be done will outweigh the advantage which would be derived from prosecuting the socialists."

The Tageblatt states that: "The socialist party in great need of a weapon with which to set up the masses and the government is going the best way to supply it."

The Vorwaertz, organ of the socialists, says: "Article 27 of the constitution reserves to the reichstag the right of regulating its discipline. The public prosecutor is not entitled to interfere with what the deputies do within the precincts of the house."

IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

Proceedings in Contempt and Other County Court News.

Alfred Page, a young farmer living north of town, will be called before Judge Hazen this afternoon on a writ of citation to show cause why he should not be sent to jail for contempt of court.

Page's wife, Edith L. Page, was recently granted a divorce and the court allowed her $15 a month alimony. Today she appeared in court and her attorney, A. H. Case, stated that the husband had neglected to pay alimony although he was amply able to do so; and that Mrs. Page needed the money, as she was dependent upon it for the support of herself and her baby.

Judge Hazen has granted a new trial in the case of William Doyle who was found guilty of burglary a few weeks ago. Doyle's alleged offense was the burglary of Payne's shoe store. Judge Hazen granted the new trial not on the usual formal grounds, but because he said he wasn't satisfied in his own mind of Doyle's guilt.

Yesterday afternoon Lawyer J. G. Waters argued a motion for a new trial in the case of George Gordon, the gold-bribe swindler, on the usual formal grounds. The motion will be decided next Monday. In case it is overruled it will be appealed to the supreme court.

LEGISLATIVE DODOES.

Mr. Morrill Addresses the Senate on Financial Vagaries.

Likens Mr. Peffer's Bills to the Extinct Dodo.

ALL ARE REJECTED.

The Senator from Vermont Calls Some Unconth Names.

Those Calling Senators Plutocrats Are Donkeys.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—After the approval of the journal, the president pro tem, Mr. Harris, laid before the senate a communication from the acting secretary of the treasury; also one from the secretary of war.

Mr. Berry, Democrat of Arkansas, presented a few remarks, urging the passage of the bill introduced by him last week to establish the territory of Indianola out of the Indian territory.

Mr. Morrill, Republican of Vermont, in accordance with the notice he had given then addressed the senate.

Mr. Morrill said: "Having indicated the purpose of briefly addressing the senate today upon some marvellous senatorial bills and quick panaceas for real and imaginary grievances, I hold in my hand nine senate bills which I have been directed by the committee on finance to report adversely and to ask for their indefinite postponement. In order that the senate may have conception of these bills, I shall ask the clerk to read the list."

All the bills were introduced by Senator Peffer of Kansas, and provide for the issue of great sums of greenbacks for various purposes.

The senator continued: "It is hardly necessary to say that these hungry bills, big, bigger and biggest, nine of them, asking for nine or ten times more money than there is now in use by the whole world, were unanimously reported adversely by the committee on finance."

Nothing more, as the committee conceived, could have been expected save brief protest from obituary. The bills, many of them, may have been reluctantly introduced by request and therefore not very tenderly nursed even by their able and omnipotent godfather.

"Responsibility for such eccentricities ought not to be asked of senators, and should any member be charged with their real authorship, I hope he would be able to plead in defense an alibi. With no reasons offered for the introduction of these multitudinous billion dollar bills, a sufficient reason for the adverse report would appear to have been that they were all dead struck from an overdose of the legal tender nostrum at their birth, administered by the accoucher."

"Figuratively speaking the bills were all of one brood and of the same father, birds of inflation, none game, none worth a charge of powder, but legislative dodos, unfitly ever to be seen on the earth again."

"Some minor political parties come and go like those diseases which afflict nobody but once. Such parties, usually destitute of constitutional principles, are ephemeral and are soon compelled to let any flag and set sail for 'Coke and a market.' Recent examples of such ephemera advertised with as much technical veracity as any patent as the 'Populist,' and leading astray many good men, appear to have politically pock-marked and discarded two or three of our sister states, but the grass-roots of our face is likely to prove a deterrent against its further domination."

"Short-lived partisans, fertile in the invention and swift in the repetition of derogatory slander, aimed by its use to defame and defeat those who happen to be in possession of the public confidence. By this class of growlers, the spurious charge is made that great wealth has been wrongly distributed—especially to senators—and has created abounding plutocrats or kings of wealth, although no untold wealth under our constitution is allowed and we have no ladders here to the upper region of riches, not free to all."

"Here the children of the wealthy, trained not to economy, nor to labor, often exchange places in succeeding generations with the children of the poor schooled in industry and frugality."

"Persons of moderate wealth, living generously, often have their estates largely over-estimated. From the loud braying of long-eared donkeys many have supposed that the senate of the United States was a second body of millionaires, when perhaps not more than two or three of its eighty odd members have any valid title to that much envied epithet of opulence. It is probable that a large majority of the body would be unable to maintain their families in Washington during the sessions of congress, but for their salaries. They have the blessing of Agur, neither poverty nor riches."

"It is also to be feared that we are overstocked with amateur cobblers, eager in every emergency to bring out from the profound recesses of their vest pockets ready made constitutional amendments, adapted when slightly lubricated, to their own peculiar circumstances."

Mr. Morrill then discussed the financial situation and the question of silver, crops and prices.

Dr. Price's Baking Powder is one of the high grade articles more economical to use than the cheap, weak and unwholesome powders.
